PREFACE

About two decades and a half ago the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute decided to publish the Descriptive Catalogue of Jaina manuscripts in two Volumes XVII and XVIII, and accordingly invited me in 1930 to prepare it. After I had worked on it for some months, it was realized that this original plan required a modification as the entire matter could not be accommodated in two volumes. Consequently it was spread over three volumes, the third being Vol. XIX.

The exigencies of the war may be one of the reasons for discontinuing the printing of Part IV of Vol. XVII for four years. This, coupled with the very slow progress in printing it, necessitated a further modification of the original plan. The portion comprising the nine appendices mentioned in my prefaces to Parts II and III of Vol. XVII and presented here along with one more, had to be separated from Part IV and set apart as Part V.

It may appear a little strange that a decision taken in 1948 and noted in my Preface (p. xv) of Part IV, to publish two parts of two different volumes as one whole, on the ground that they are not disparate—they all form part of the catalogue of Jaina Mss , and there is sufficient homogeneity of material to warrant their publication in one volume, has been subsequently set aside. But this is, of course, the result of an after thought based upon the following considerations :—

(1) It creates an awkward position of compelling a reader to go through and a buyer to spend for a book containing two portions, though only one is presently needed by him.

(2) The number of printed pages of Part V has come out to be sufficiently big to be presented as a separate publication by itself.

(3) Even though a sufficient number of pages of Vol. XVIII sent to press in 1938) will be ready for being published as part I,[1] part V of Vol. XVII cannot be completed in time. So the question of combining these two does not arise.

This Part V of Vol. XVII comprises the following ten Appendices :—

(I) Index of Authors.

(II) Index of Works.

(III) Classification of Works according to Languages.

(IV) List of Dated Works.

(V) List of Dated Manuscripts.

(VI) (a) Chronograms and their Significations.

(b) Sanskrit Words and their Numerical Significations.

(VII) Cosmological Data with special reference to names of places where works were composed or copied.

(VIII) Proper Names of (a) Deities, (b) Kings, Queens and Princes, (c) Scribes, (d) Schools and Sub-schools, (e) Castes, Sub-castes, Lineages etc. (f) Jaina Monks and Nuns, (g) Jaina Laity, (h) Non-Jaina Laity, (i) Works and their Sections and (j) Miscellanea.

(IX) List of Abbreviations along with their Explanations and Locations.

(X) Correspondence Table of Manuscripts.

Of these ten Appendices, App. I, II and X were practically prepared as far back as 1933 and the rest during the years 1934-1940. In 1941 it struck me that I should replace serial numbers of works by page numbers for Appendices VII-IX so that it may become a work of ready reference. This change I went on introducing as Parts III and IV of Vol. XVII got printed.

I have said a few words about all the appendices except the sixth in my Preface (pp. xx-xxi) of part III of Vol. XVII and those about this sixth appendix in my Preface (p. xvii) of part IV of Vol. XVII. What remains to be added by way of special features is given here as under, per appendix:—

1. It is already published last year (1952).

In Appendix I, I have not merely listed names of authors along with their works but have added some further details regarding them where possible and needed. In all 126 authors have been mentioned. It may be that some of these may turn out to be identical. For tackling this problem a list of proper names of kings, rulers, gacchas and Jaina clergy and laity, given on pp. 4-18 of part I and pp. 21-43 of part II of Śrī-praśasti-saṅgraha published by Deśa-virati-Dharmārādhaka Samāja in Vikrama Saṁvat 1993, may be useful. Equally so is perhaps Appendix II of [1]Jaina-pustaka-praśasti-saṅgraha (Vol. I) where names of authors recorded in palm-leaf manuscripts having a colophon, are noted.

Appendix II deals with about [2]730 independent works. They include works of known authorship and anonymous as well. The former are noted along with their author's name. For verification, comparison and assessment one may refer to Vol. I of Jaina-pustaka-praśasti-saṅgraha (appendix I) where works along with or without the dates when they were written, are noted.

In Appendix III works are arranged according to languages. Herein works in Pāiya (Sk. Prākṛta) are given the first place as this volume mainly deals with the Jaina canon written in Addhamāgahī (Sk. Ardhamāgadhī), a variety of Pāiya. Works which appear to be composed in 'Apabhraṁśa language are often looked upon as a part of Pāiya literature. There are in all three works in 'Apabhraṁśa'. Their serial numbers are 814-818 (?), 1381 and 1382. On including them and counting fragments of works having specific titles as separate works, the Pāiya works come to 291. They are followed by Sanskrit works and not those in the modern Indian languages. The numbers of works so classified are 353 and 103 respectively, fragments counted separately.

Thus Appendix III deals with works composed mainly in three languages : (I) Pāiya, (II) Saṁskṛta and (III) Gujarātī. As regards Pāiya works [3]most of the Jaina canonical texts are in

1 This is published as No. 18 in Singhi Jain Series in A. D. 1943.

2 This number differs from one given in Appendix II; for, here sections of works are not counted separately.

3 The 11 aṅgas, 12 uvaṅgas, all the cheyasuttas except Jīyakappasutta, 3 mūlasuttas viz. Uttarajjhayaṇa, Dasaveyāliya and Āvassaya are in Addhamāgahī. Several paiṇṇas are said to be composed by one or more pupils of Lord Mahāvīra. If so, they, too, are in Addhamāgahī.

Addhamāgahī whereas the rest of the works including even exegetical literature comprising Nijjuttis, Bhāsas and Cuṇṇis are in Jaiṇa Marahaṭṭhī (Sk. Jaina Māhārāṣṭrī). Some portions of Cuṇṇis are at times in Saṁskṛta.

In the Gujarātī works there are several [1]ṭabbās—bālāvabodhas. Those pertaining to 31 canonical texts are noted by me in my article "आगमोना बालावबोध" published in "Jaina Satya Prakāśa" (Vol. XIII, No. 11, pp. 251-255).

In Appendix IV, out of about 760 independent works there are only 60 (independent) ones which are dated. This is not unusual when we know that in olden days authors did not care even to mention the name of their work, much less their own name in their composition. The oldest dated work here recorded is Nandīsūtracūrṇi, its date being Vikrama Saṁvat 733 i. e. 677 A. D. The latest works which are dated, are each of Saṁvat 1838. It is possible to form some idea about the dates of other works, in case their authors can be identified from their names mentioned in these works, and a terminus ad quem can be fixed in the case of some works from the age of their manuscript actually mentioned or conjecturable. But a person like me preparing a descriptive catalogue, is not expected to attempt or solve these problems of chronology, and I shall be consequently excused, if I do no tackle them. It may be suggested en passant that Appendices II-IV, VI, IX and X of Jaina-pustaka-praśasti-saṅgraha (Vol. I) referred to on p. III may be consulted as they furnish us with names of authors, scribes and others.

Appendix V records dated manuscripts. Mostly the Vikrama era is mentioned. At times Śaka Saṁvat is given.

A manuscript means any document or work written by hand. I here use it in the latter sense. Manuscripts can be divided into two groups according as they deal with one or more works. The second group can be further divided into two sub-groups, the former containing homogenious works and the latter heterogenious

1 As stated by me in my article "टबो अने एनां समावहालां" published in "Gujarātī" (Weekly, 27-7-41) there are various synonyms for this e. g. टबंक, टबार्थ, टबु, स्तबुक, स्तबुकार्थ and स्तब्बक.

ones. By homogenious works I mean a text and its exegesis. Just as a commentary and its super-commentary are homogenious works as they deal with one and the same text, so are two different commentaries of one and the same text.[1] A manuscript containing heterogenious works is here named as composite (see p. 112 where a Ms. dated 1491 is noted). This name can be applied even to a Ms. having a text and its commentary, even when one does not follow the other or to a Ms. which has two commentaries on one and the same text. I have however distinguished these two types of composite Mss. by using brackets for the former one. At times, in the first type of a composite Ms. I had to include commentaries pertaining to a work or works forming a heterogenious group (see p. 111).

The fourth rule of Appendix V mentioned on p. 109 may be here expounded as under : —

If there are more than one Ms. bearing the same date and if one or more of them contain homogeneous works, these works along with the rest are arranged according to the Nāgarī alphabet e.g. those of two Mss. dated 1469 (p. 111), works of Mss. dated 1590 (p. 117) (one of these is composite), 1650 (p. 119) and 1661 (p. 120). But if one of these composite Mss., contains heterogeneous works, they are given a priority over the rest.

In Appendix VI there is given a list of chronograms. This when combined with the corresponding lists for Vols. XVIII & XIX will be fairly representative. The word " chronogram " is explained in The Concise Oxford Dictionary of Current English as under :—

" Phrase etc. of which the Roman-numeral letters added give a date, as LorD haVe MerCIe Vpon Vs=50+500+5+1000+100+1+1+5+5=1666. "

I use the phrase " word-chronogram " to denote a numeral expressed by means of words arranged as in the place-value notation. Herein words signify names of objects, beings or concepts which connote numbers either naturally or according to Vaidika or Jaina scriptures e. g. sky standing for zero, earth for 1, jewel for 3, sage for 7, self-control for 17 & so on. This sort of system was developed and perfected in India in the early century of the Christian era.

In the Vedas we find that numbers denote things. For instance, in the Ṛgveda (VII, 103, 1) 'dvādaśan' signifies year, and in the Atharvan Veda (I, 1, 1) seven stands for a group of 7 objects—7 seas etc. Śatapatha Brāhmaṇa (XIII, 3, 2, 1) and Taittirīya Brāhmaṇa (I, 5, 11, 1) which are about 2000 B. C. old, furnish us with examples where a word denotes a whole number and not a fractional one as is the case with śapha=$\frac{1}{4}$, kuṣṭha=$\frac{1}{12}$ and kalā=$\frac{1}{16}$. Chāndogya Upaniṣad, Vedaṅga-jyotiṣa (1200 B.C.) and the Śrautasūtras of Kātyāyana and Lāṭyāyana sail in the same boat.

Agni-purāṇa (chs. 122, 123, 131, 140, 141 & 328-335) seems to be the first work where word-numerals with place-value are met with. Puliśa-siddhānta (from which quotations are given by Bhaṭṭotpala in his commentary on Bṛhat-saṁhitā) is practically the next work to use such a word-system.

Word-chronograms occur in inscriptions. Two of the oldest Indian inscriptions of this type are dated 813 A. D. and 842 A. D. respectively.

Writers on Mathematics and Astronomy have used "word-chronograms" in their Sanskrit works in verse as far back as the fourth century A. D. Later on, other writers, too, have done so. So it is no wonder if we find word-chronograms in Jaina works written in Sanskrit, Prākrit & Gujarātī. Here words mostly represent values according to the popular—mythological conceptions of the Vaidika Hindus e. g. indra signifying 14. In some cases the Jaina conceptions are taken into account. For instance yakṣa stands for 13 as there are 13 varieties of this demi-god and saṁyama (self-control) for 17.

At times we come across certain word-numerals which are assigned a particular value but the reason for doing so is not so very well known. So I may say a few words about them.

Guṇa denotes six as it is used for the proper courses of action for a king in foreign politics. They are सन्धि (alliance), विग्रह (war), यान (march), स्थान (halt), आसन (strategem) and द्वैधीभाव (aid of other kings).

Jana may stand for three if it can be equated with loka.

Janani may denote eight when associated with pravacana.

Tarka stands for six. This is borne out by the first line of the following verse occurring in [1]Guṇacandra's commentary viz. Tattvaprakāśikā (p. 33) on Kātantra-vibhrama popularly known as Haimavibhrama :—

" षट्तर्ककर्कशमतिः कविचक्रवर्ती
शब्दानुशासनमहाम्बुधिपारदृश्वा ।
शिष्याम्बुजप्रकरजृम्भणचित्रभानुः
कक्कल एव सुकृती जयति स्थिरायाम् ॥ "

Timi means an ocean and so it can signify 4 or 7. But this does not suit the context.

Niti is used to denote 8. Usually it stands for four. So will any scholar be pleased to give a reason for it ? The same question may be asked for " nṛpa " which signifies 16.

Yakṣa stands for 13. For, according to the Jaina conception of celestial beings there are 13 varieties of Yakṣas. They are noted by Umāsvāti in his bhāṣya (p. 284) on his own work Tattvārthādhigamasūtra (IV, 12) as under :—

"पूर्णभद्राः, माणिभद्राः, श्वेतभद्राः, हरिभद्राः, सुमनोभद्राः, व्यतिपातिकभद्राः, सुभद्राः, सर्वतोभद्राः, मनुष्ययक्षाः, वनाधिपतयः, वनाहाराः, रूपयक्षाः, यक्षोत्तमा इति "

Sārin signifies 15. What is this due to ?

This Appendix VI furnishes us with word-chronograms in Sanskrit only. Most of them follow the rule " अङ्कानां वामतो गतिः "

i. e. to say right to left arrangement. There are a few cases where the opposite arrangement is followed. For instance Subodhikā furnishes us with a [1]curious word-chronogram. In some cases we come across word-chronograms of which one or more constituents are names of numbers and not words.

The Jaina manuscripts show that word-chronograms occur in versified colophons of Jaina works and at times in concluding lines written by scribes, whereby they indicate dates of corresponding manuscripts. A work named Ācāradinakara notes its extent by means of a word-chronogram. In Prabhāvakacarita composed by Prabhācandra Sūri and divided into 22 sections, each known as " śṛṇga " śṛṇga XXI is referred to as " kūyugma " (v. 289). The number of ṣaṣṭhas (a kind of penance), the period of the glory of Jainism in the 5th century etc. are also at times expressed in " word-chronograms ".

A list of word-chronograms has been given by me in my edition of Gaṇitatilaka as appendix III (pp. 107-113). A fairly long list is met with, in History of Hindu Mathematics (Part I, pp. 54-57) where this topic is nicely treated. Earlier than this is Bhāratīya Prācīna Lipimālā. Here a list is given on p. 120.[2] In History of Classical Sanskrit Literature its author M. Krishnamachariar says in his introduction (p. LXII) to this work:—

" The first complete list is that given by Alberuni (A.D. 1031); the following is from his list, as translated by Woepoke supplemented from Brown's ' Cyclic Tables ' and Inscriptions. "

Keśavamiśra in his [3]Alaṅkāraśekhara (marīci XVIII) has given a list of words which convey numerals from one to one thousand.

1 A similar example is furnished by the date of composition of Vicāraratnākara. Here the word-chronogram " दर्शन-हिमकर-गगन-ग्रैवेयक " stands for 1690, the constituents separately denoting 6, 1, 0, and 9.

2 I, too, have dealt with this topic in my Gujarātī article " शब्दांकोनुं दिग्दर्शन ". It is published in " Jaina Satya Prakāśa " (Vol. XIV, No. 2, (pp. 33-37).

3 This is published in " Kāvyamālā ". The work is divided into three parts: (a) kārikās, (b) vṛtti and (c) examples, and it is composed in the latter half of the 16th century A. D.

In Appendix VII I have noted place-names. The question of identifying them is outside the scope of this catalogue; so it has not been attempted. Materials which may throw some light in this direction may be however noted :—

(1) Jinaprabha Sūri's Kalpapradīpa popularly known as 'Vividhatīrthakalpa' (Part I) published in Singhi Jaina Series in A. D. 1934.

1 Appendix I of this work furnishes us with names of the Jaina clergy and appendix II, those of the Jaina laity.

(11) Index XIX of Short History of Jaina Literature (in Gujarātī) compiled by Mr. M. S. Desai and published by the " Jaina Shvetambara Conference ", Bombay, in A. D. 1933. This work contains several other indexes useful for comparing the entries of Appendices I-III and VIII.

(22) " Tīrthayātra Saṅghayātra " (pp. 102-156), an extensive article in Gujarātī by Āgamoddhāraka Ānandasāgara Sūri published in " Siddhacakra " (Vol. VI, Nos. 5-9 & 14).

(23) A list of geographical places and their identifications given at the end by Kalyāṇavijaya Gaṇi in his Hindī work "Śramaṇa Bhagavān Mahāvīra."

(24) "राजस्थान के नगर एवं ग्राम", an article by Dr. Dasharath Sharma published in "राजस्थान-भारती" (भा० 3, अं० १), Journal of the Sadul Rājasthānī.

(25) पुराणोमां गुजरात by Mr. Umashankar Joshi. It is published by Gujarāt Vidyā Sabhā, Ahmedabad, in A. D. 1946.

(26) Praśasti-saṅgraha published in "Śrī-Mahāvīra-Granthamālā" as No. 2 by दि० जैन अतिशय क्षेत्र श्री महावीरजी, Jayapur, in A.D. 1950. This supplies us with an index of names of geographical places along with those of rulers of those places and their dates. This index is followed by one pertaining to the names of authors and scribes. Then we have another index which gives us names of lineages etc.

(27) जैन आगमसाहित्यमां गुजरात by Dr. B. J. Sandesara. It is published in A. D. 1952 by Gujarāt Vidyā Sabhā, Ahmedabad.

(28) Appendices XI & XII of Bṛhat-Kalpasūtra (pt. VI). This work is published by Jain Atmanand Sabha in A. D. 1953.[1]

(29) Jaina-Tīrtha-Saṅgraha (Vol. I, pts. 1 & 2 and Vol. II) published by "Sheth Anandji Kalyanji", Ahmedabad, in A. D. 1953. It has several indexes. One of them deals with geographical places.

To this list I may add the names of the following published works dealing with Jaina inscriptions as they furnish us with names of cities and villages and with details that can help us in identifying them, when such an attempt is made:—

I-III The Jaina Inscriptions (Vols. I-III) collected and compiled by Puran Chand Nahar. Here there is an index of places. Further, there is a list of castes and lineages of the Jaina laity along with that of gacchas and the Jaina monks who installed images. In Vol. II there is, in addition, a list of kings and rulers.

IV-V Jaina dhātu-pratima-lekha-saṅgraha (pts. I & II) collected and compiled by Buddhisāgara Sūri. The first part furnishes us with names of (i) installation-places, (ii) castes of the Jaina laity, and (iii-iv) Jaina monks and their schools. In Part II a list of castes is omitted but names of the rest are given.

1 On the title-page the publication-year is given as A. D. 1942 but really it should be 1953 as can be seen from the dedication.

VI-VII Prācīna Jaina lekha-saṅgraha (pts. I-II) collected and compiled by Jinavijayajī.

VIII Arbuda prācīna Jaina lekha-sandoha i. e. Ābu (pt. II) collected and compiled by Jayantavijayajī.

IX Arbudācala pradakṣiṇā Jaina-lekha-sandoha i. e. Abu (pt. V) collected and compiled by Jayantavijayajī. It contains nine appendices.

X Jaina śilā-lekha-saṅgraha (Part I) collected and compiled by Prof. Hiralal Jain. This part deals with Jaina inscriptions pertaining to Śrāvaṇa belgolā and its adjoining places. So the list of place-names given here is not useful for this Vol. XVII. All the same I note it here as it may be of some use for the subsequent volumes. In this part we have two indexes. Of them the first records names of Jaina monks and nuns, poets, schools and sub-schools and works. The rest of the proper names including those of places, kings and castes are noted in Index II. Part II has only one index of proper names of various kinds.

In this connection I may mention that the following books pertaining to the itineries of the Jaina clergy of the modern age supply us with names of geographical places with some details about them :—

(1) विहारदर्शन (Part I) (in Gujarātī) edited by Muni Jñāna-vijayajī and published as No. 5 in " Chāritra Series " in Vikrama Saṁvat 1981.

(2) विहारवर्णन (in Gujarātī) edited by Muni Jayantavijayajī and published by " Yaśovijaya Jaina Granthamālā ", Bhavnagar, in Vikrama Saṁvat 1982.

(3) विहारदिग्दर्शन (Part I) (in Hindī) edited by Muni Priyaṅkaravijayajī and published by Somachand Jesingdas, Mhesana, in Vikrama Saṁvat 1992.

This Appendix VII differs from the preceding six appendices in- asmuch as there is an entry about lines in addition to that of pages. It facilitates the work of reference. Further, it serves a useful purpose ; for a name occurring more than once on one and the same page gets recorded.

Appendix VIII means a classification of proper names. It excludes direct references to authors and their works i. e. to say it includes names of authors when they occur in their different work or works; and it records only such works as are referred to in a work or works other than itself e. g. Bhaktaparijñā noted in Āturpratyākhyānavivaraṇa. This appendix excludes names pertaining to cosmological data and those of years, months and dates.

The classification of proper names coming within the range of this appendix, gives rise to ten groups noted on p. ii.

A list of kings and rulers based upon Merutuṅga Sūri's Vicāraśreṇi is given as appendix IV to Jaina Gūrjara Kavio (Vol. II).

In Paṭṭāvalī Samuccaya (pt. I) we have an alphabetical list of names of (a) Tirthaṅkaras and their apostles, (b) Jaina monks and nuns, (c) Schools, [1]sects and lineages, (d) laity (Jaina & Non-Jaina), (e) Non-Jaina deities and clergy and (f) birudas (appelations).

Succession-lists of Jaina monks grouped according to their schools and sub-schools are given in Jaina Gūrjara Kavio in Vol. II as appendices II & III and in Vol. III, pt. II, as appendix II.

Appendices I and II of जैन ऐतिहासिक गूर्जर काव्यसंचय furnish us with a list of the names of the Jaina clergy classified according to their schools (gacchas) and that of laity arranged according to their places respectively. This may be utilized for comparison etc.

Appendix XI of Bṛhat-kalpa-sūtra (pt. V) is a list of proper names. They are grouped under 53 heads by way of Appendix XII. We are here concered with the names of the following :—

(i) Deities, (ii) Kings and princes, (iii) the Jaina clergy, (iv) Schools of the Jaina clergy, (v) the Jaina laity, (vi) the Non-Jaina laity, and (vii) Castes & Lineages.

In the case of scribes and Jaina monks and nuns I have tried to give some details about them. In doing so, I have used the words ' pupil ' and ' guru '. In some cases they are not to be taken in the strictest sense. For, at times, pupil may turn out to be a grand-pupil or devotee, and guru may mean only 'reverend' and not 'dikṣā-guru' (one who admitted to the monastic order) or vidyā-guru (one who gave spiritual trainig). Further, in the case of the Jaina clergy and laity the period assigned to them is only approximate. It may differ even by a century or so. This tentative information, though not exact, has its own value, and that is why it is attempted here.

1 G. Bühler's work Ueber die indische Sekte der Jains (Almanach der k. Akademie der Wissneschaften, Wien, 1887) is translated into Engligh by G. Bühler. It is named " On the Indian Sect of the Jainas, with an outline of Jaina Mythology " (London, 1903).

Names of scribes have been assigned a separate place so that firstly we can know as to which class of people have done writing work, and secondly we can know at once if there is an autograph of any particular individual.

A list of some of the presentees has been given separately though, once I had desired to give it completely with that of donors. It seems that especially rich house-holders of the Jaina community bore expenses of getting works beautifully transcribed and considered it a meritorious act to present such transcriptions to Jaina clergy. I have not come across any name of a house-holder as presentee. In the case of the clergy Merunandana is a donor.

In this appendix VIII we come across several names which are identical. This does not invariably mean that those who have a common name are necessarily so. Consequently I had to distinguish one individual from the other with the help of the material recorded in this catalogue. A thorough investigation by consulting other sources may lead to a contrarary result in some cases, but it is out of question when this is after all a descriptive catalogue.

This appendix deals with proper names out of which some, though linguistically different, represent one and the same object. In order that this may be realised, I have given equations which point out the corresponding identities.

In this Appendix VIII there is an entry about lines in addition to that of pages. It serves a useful purpose, for a name occurring more than once on one and the same page, gets recorded.

In Appendix IX I have noted abbreviations more than once with a view to furnishing data for their history.

As regards Appendix X there is nothing special to note. In order to maintain uniformity with previous publications of some of the Descriptive Catalogues published by this Institute and especially the first published by the Govt. of Bombay in 1918 I have not replaced the title of this Appendix by "Concordance Table", though, I, for one, prefer it to this.

In the case of some of the composite Mss. (e. g. those numbered as 1106 of 1891-95 and 1392 of 1891-95) the original numbers written in brackets, while describing them, have been replaced by new ones in this Appendix X. But the corresponding corrections are not noted in "errata".

At times the serial No. for the first work of a composite Ms. could not be given in some of the preceding parts (e. g. for Maraṇavidhi on p. 282 of Part I). But, now, with the help of this Appendix such cases can be attended to, except when the description of the 1st work is not as yet printed.

It is a matter of great pleasure to note that my wife Indirā and all the four children[1] have willingly helped me in one way or other, in the preparation of these Appendices I-X.

Regulations of the Manuscripts Department

1. "The Government Manuscripts Library" formed and maintained by the Government of Bombay, and formerly deposited at the Deccan College, Poona, is now, subject to the general control of the Department of Education, Bombay, placed under the direct charge of the Bhandarkar Oriental Research Institute, Poona.

2. The Department is administered by a Superintendent appointed by the Executive Board of the B. O. R. Institute subject to the approval of Government.

3. The Manuscripts are available at the Institute, during working hours, for purposes of bona fide study.

4. The Manuscripts in the Library, if, in good condition, and subject to the requirements of Department, are lent out to bona fide scholars on their applying for them in writing to the Superintendent of the Department or to the Secretary of the Institute. Such scholars shall, however, execute a bond for the value of the manuscripts required, this value being fixed by the officers in charge of the Library.

5. In the case of scholars from outside India all requisitions for loans of Manuscripts shall be made to the diplomatic representatives of the Government of India in the respective countries. In countries where there are no representatives such demands should be made through the High Commissioner for India in Great Britain. Such scholars shall execute the necessary bond with that authority at his discretion.

6. In the case of scholars in India the execution of the bond shall be necessary before the manuscripts are lent out. When the applicant is not sufficiently known to the Superintendent of the Department, this latter officer shall have the power to call upon the applicant to produce a certificate as to his interest in the study of Sanskrit Literature, and of his being a fit person to be entrusted with Government manuscripts. Such a certificate shall have to be signed by Orientalists of recognised position, or by Government officers of provincial or other highest service, not below the rank of a Deputy Collector or Extra Assistant Commissioner. The certificate should contain a reference to works or essays published by the applicant.

N. B.— In the case of scholars residing within the jurisdiction of a Native State, the certificate may be signed either by the Chief Sahib or the Divan or the administrator of the State.

7. All applications for manuscripts shall state the reasons for which the manuscripts are required and the period for which the loan is sought.

8. If any manuscripts belonging to this Library have been used in the publication of an edition, or in any other learned disquisition, the authors should present to the Manuscripts Library a copy of the work or works so published.

9. The number of manuscripts to be lent out at a time to a scholar, and the period of loan, is determined by the officer in charge of the Library. Usually, however, in the case of Indian scholars, not more than five manuscripts are allowed to remain with them at a time, and the period of loan shall not normally exceed six months.

10. Immediately on receipt of manuscripts, the scholars are requested to examine them carefully before signing and returning the receipt-form accompanying the manuscripts, as no complaints will be entertained thereafter.

11. When the manuscripts are returned to the Library they are duly examined, and if found in their original condition, the receipt formerly signed for them is returned and the bond cancelled. The liability of the borrowers ceases only after the return of this receipt.

12. If scholars find that, owing to the work on the manuscripts not being completed within the stipulated period, they cannot return the manuscripts when due, they shall, sufficiently in advance, apply in writing to that effect to the Superintendent of the Department. The period of loan will be extended at discretion. In no case, however, shall any manuscripts be allowed to remain with a scholar longer than two years in India, and five years outside India.

13. The Manuscripts Department reserves to itself the right of refusing to lend out any manuscript to any scholar at any time, and in the case of manuscripts lent out, of demanding their return before the expiry of the stipulated period, if the manuscripts be required for library or other purposes.

14. All postal charges shall be borne by the applicant.

15. The Department undertakes to procure on loan, for the members of the Institute, manuscripts from other lending Libraries,

[3] He or his namesake Jīvavijaya is a pupil of Jñānavijaya and has composed in Saṁvat 1803 a Guj. bālāvabodha on Karmagrantha.

[4] Prior to his becoming Sūri he was known as Nayavimala. For his life see the intro. to प्राचीन-स्तवन-रत्न-संग्रह (pt. I).

[5–7] All the three vārtikas have been composed in Sūryapura i. e. Surat. The literary activities run from Saṁvat 1738 to 1771.

[8] His vidyā-gurus were Yaśaḥkīrti and Rājendracandra Sūri.

[9] This is probably the very first bālāvabodha (in Guj.) on a Jaina canonical text.

[1] Is he a grand-pupil of Cakreśvara Sūri ?

[2] Is he a pupil of Ravikuśala ? If so, it is he who has composed a bālāvabodha in Guj. on Śatruñjayamāhātmya in Saṁvat 1767.

[3] Devendra Sūri has named him as 'Devarddhi Vācaka' and 'Devarddhi Kṣamāśramaṇa', too, as can be seen from pp. 10, 14 and 175 and pp. 6 and 20 of his com. on his own first four Karmagranthas. Here he has prefixed these names while quoting from Nandīsūtra. He should be however distinguished from Devarddhi Gaṇi Kṣamāśramaṇa under whose presidentship the Jaina canon was redacted in Vīra Saṁvat 980 or 993 according to another version.

[4] Āgamoddhāraka Ānandasāgara Sūri has suggested in his intro. to Paṇṇavaṇāsāruddhāra (pt. II) that he may be same as the commentator of this Prākrit work. He has kept this question open for final decision.

[1] Īśvara Gaṇi of Saravāla gaccha had four pupils, one of whom was Pārśvadeva Gaṇi, the other three being (a) Vīra Gaṇi, who commented upon Piṇḍaniryukti in Saṁvat 1169, (b) Mahendra Sūri and (c) Devacandra Gaṇi. There is another Pārśvadeva Gaṇi who helped Āmradeva Sūri in composing a com. on Ākhyānamaṇikośa in Saṁvat 1190.

Śrīcandra Sūri (formerly known as Pārśvadeva Gaṇi), was a pupil of Dhaneśvara Sūri. He may be the commentator of Upasargaharastotra (vide p. 244 of SHJL).

[2] Is he same as Pūrṇacandra, pupil of Ratnaśekhara Sūri of the Tapā gaccha? Or can he be identified with Pūrṇacandra, one of the eight successors of Śānti Sūri who composed Pṛthvīcandracaritra in Vīra Saṁvat 1631 (i. e. Saṁvat 1161)? Or is he some one else?

[3] He had a brother named Dhandha.

[4] He is an author of Siddhasārasvata grammar. He had three pupils: Ratnaprabha, Parāmānanda and Kanakaprabha (the guru of Jayasiṁha, Pradyumna Sūri and Bālacandra).

[5] He is said to be jealous of Rāmacandra Sūri (one of the learned disciples of his guru) and to have instigated King Ajayapāla to murder him.

[6] His chief disciples were Rāmacandra Sūri, Guṇacandra Gaṇi, Mahendra Sūri, Vardhamāna Gaṇi, Devacandra, Yaśaścandra, Udayacandra and Bālacandra. For details about them (in Guj.) see Itihāsanī Keḍī (pp. 25-49).

[1] In SHJL this is named as Jinahitā; but it seems to be a slip. Here its author is identified with the commentator of Jambūdvīpaprajñapti, and hence I, too, have done so.

[2] According to some scholars all the works here noted are not from the pen of Bhadrabāhu I. See Muni Puṇyavijaya's article "छेदसूत्रकार अने निर्युक्तिकार" published in Silver Jubilee Volume of Mahāvīra Jaina Vidyālaya (pp. 185-201). Bhadrabāhu II is said to be a brother of Varāhamihira who composed Pañca-siddhāntikā in Śaka 427. But, on taking into account the com. of Simhasūri (Simhanandi) on Nayacakra, this position seems to be untenable.

[3-4] Are the works Pratikramaṇasaṁgrahaṇī Nos. 1060 and 1061, and Āśātanā No. 1064 from the pen of this very Bhadrabāhusvāmin ?

[5] He is an author of Sattriṁśajjalpavicāra (Saṁvat 1679) and Campā-kamālākathā (Saṁvat 1708).

[6] In this work the author was helped by Vijayaharṣa Gaṇi, a pupil of his own guru.

[1] He is said to be Bṛhad-gacchīya. He composed this hymn in Nāḍula to remove the māri (? plague) of the citizens of Sākambharī.

[3] Here in the colophon are noted Dīpikās on Piṇḍaniryukti, Oghaniryukti, Daśavaikālika, Uttarādhyayana, Ācāra and Navatattvavicāraṇā. But there is no mention of Kalpasūtraniryuktyavacūri. What is this due to ?

They are (a) Lakṣmīsāgara Sūri, (b) Hemahaṁsa Gaṇi, (c) Śubhaśīla Gaṇi (d) Harṣasena, (e) Candrasena Gaṇi, (f) Saṅghavimala, (g) Saṅghakalaśa Gaṇi, (h) one who composed bālāvabodha on Kalyāṇamandirastotra, (i) Śivasamudra Gaṇi, (j) Śubhasundara Gaṇi and (k) Viśālarāja. [2] For his identification I may mention two particulars :
(i) Maladhārin Hemacandra Sūri had a pupil named (a) Śrīcandra Sūri who had Municandra Sūri as his pupil. This Municandra had two pupils named as Devānanda and Yaśobhadra.
(ii) Devendra Sūri's pupil Śrīcandra Sūri composed Sanatkumāracaritra in Prakrit in Saṁvat 1214. As stated in SHJL (p. 277) Yaśobhadra Sūri was pupil of this Devendra Sūri.

There is another Ratnasiṁha Sūri who was a pupil of 'Saiddhāntika' Municandra Sūri. His pupil Vinayacandra composed in Saṁvat 1325, Kalpasūtradurgapadaniruktā (No. 548).

2-3 Of these two the first is bigger than the second and composed later. The first com. was revised by Vidyāvimala, Vivekavimala and Ānandavijaya.

4 This com. was composed during the life-time (rājya) of Vijayadāna Sūri i. e, prior to Saṁvat 1622.

5 According to SHJL (p. 250) he is a successor of Sarvadeva of Candra gaccha.

6 For his life and works see SHJL (pp.648, 649). He died in Saṁvat 1738 in Rander near Surat.

7 In SHJL (p. 414) this com. is named as Kalpaniryukta-dīpālikā-kalpa.

8 He is associated with ' Dharkaṭa kula, one to which Dhanapāla belonged.

9 His other pupils were Mahendra Sūri, Pārśvadeva Gaṇi and Devacandra Gaṇi.

[1] He is said to have died in Vīra Saṁvat 376.

[2] There is one Śrīcandra Sūri who is pupil of Vīra Gaṇi of Candra kula and who is guru of Yaśodeva Sūri who composed cūrṇi on Pañcāśaka (I) in Saṁvat 1172.

[3] See p. 8.

[4] This is dated as Saṁvat 1173. See SHJL (p. 243). Its author is mentioned as pupil of Śīlabhadra in No. 449 (" ends ").

[5] Devamūrti who composed in Śaka 1320 (i. e, Saṁvat 1455) Kṣetra-samāsa along with a com. is a great-grand-disciple of Śrītilaka of Paurṇamīya gaccha. Is this Śrītilaka same as one mentioned here? Or is he a pupil of Devabhadra Sūri, pupil of Abhayadeva Sūri, the founder of Rudrapallīya gaccha or is he the guru of Rājaśekhara Sūri who composed Pañjikā on Nyāyakandalī ?

[6] In SHJL (p. 849) he is named as Tilaka Sūri, and works here noted by me under various Sūris having the same name ('Śrītilaka') are attributed to him. I however think that the correct name in almost all these cases is Śrītilaka. For in Nos. 592 (p. 267), 847 (p. 232), 974 (p. 334), 1081 (p. 440) and 1272 (p. 111) we have श्रीश्रीतिलक and in Nos. 931 and 975 " श्रीप्राक्पदास्तिलक-सूरि ", though in Nos. 857 (p. 240) and 971 (p. 330) we have श्रीतिलक. Can both the śrīs be honorific ?

[7-12] It remains to be ascertained whether the authors of these works are different or not.

[1] In SHJL (p. 252) it is mentioned that a com. on Daśavaikālika by Sumati Sūri, pupil of ... Vācaka was written in Saṁvat 1188, and on p. 526 it is stated that Śānti Sūri, pupil of Sumati Sūri of Sāṇḍera gaccha composed Sāgaradattarāsa in about Saṁvat 1550. Is any one of these Sūris the pertinent one ?

[2] According to SHJL (p. 414) he was a pupil of Dharmaghoṣa Sūri (who died in Saṁvat 1357) and an author of 28 yamaka-stutis.

Munisundara Sūri who composed Traividyagoṣṭhī in Saṁvat 1455, is his pupil. For the bālāvabodhas of Somasundara Sūri see SHJL (p. 486).

[3] Is No. 1264 here pertinent ?

[4] He is indebted to Jinabhaṭa for utilizing his com. on Āvaśyakasūtra. For his life and works see my intro. (pp. XVII-XXIX) to Anekāntajayapatākā (Vol. I) and intro. (pp. X-LXXII, CIII-CVI & CXXII-CXXVIII) to Vol. II of this work.

1 It may be mentioned that this word is here used not as "derogatory and as an affront to the status of Indian languages, more especially vis-a-vis the English language. ... True, 'Vernacular' is derived from a Latin word vernaculus, 'native', which itself comes from verna, 'home-born slave'. But the meaning of the word has nothing to do with slavery". Furthermore, "as defined in the Concise Oxford Dictionary it is: 'Vernacular' (of languages, idiom, word); of one's native country, native, indigenous, not of foreign origin or of learned formation. Of all these connotations only the last (which is not generally conveyed) may be considered slighting"

—"Times of India" of 22-1-38

So I may make it clear that I use the word 'Vernacular' simply to denote all those Indian languages other than Sanskrit and Prakrit without meaning that any one of them is inferior to the rest.

2 Some portion in the beginning is in Sanskrit.

N. B.— The word-numerals of this Appendix [1-5] mostly refer to the years of composition and dates of Mss. So in the heading the word 'chronogram' is used.

1 The extent of Ācāradinakara (No. 1338) is expressed as "व्योमव्योमाक्षेषुचन्द्र" i. e. 15500.

खखबाणार्णव represents the extent of the commentary viz. 4500 in No. 1373. Same is the case with रेखबाणार्णव occurring in No. 1374, for रेख should be really खख.

2 The No. of saṣṭhas is given as नवेक्षणक्षण i. e. 229 in No. 382.

3 On p. 224 रुद्र is used to indicate the number (11) of apostles of Lord Mahāvīra.

4 On p. 337, l. 10 शरशत is used to denote the number of thieves viz. 500.

5 In No. 520 the age of the Jaina tīrtha (churuh) is mentioned as खखखाब्जनेत्र i. e. 21000.

1 This is somewhat unusual.

2 Here the usual rule viz. "अङ्कानां वामतो गतिः" is not observed. See fn. 5.

3 The scribe or the commentator himself may have given the value 1660. In Jinaratnakośa (Vol. I, p. 131) this number is given.

4 This is rather curious.

5 See fn. 2.

(f) [1]Jaina Monks and Nuns

N. B.— (1) Monks of the same name are mentioned one below the other, but this does not necessarily mean that they have flourished in this very order, for arrangement according to their dates is beyond the scope of the present work.

(2) The question of identity of monks of the same name, is not throughout tackled for the reason mentioned above.

(3) If a monk happens to be an author and if his name is mentioned by himself in his own work, his name is not noted here.

(4) Names of scribes are not here assigned a place.

(5) The words such as 'descendent', 'predecessor' and 'successor' do not denote invariably immediate ones.

1 Is he an author of the bālāvabodha of Ṭhāṇa?

2-3 As stated by Kalyāṇavijayajī in his Gujarātī introduction to the Gujarātī translation of "Prabhāvakacaritra" there are seven events associated with one or the other Kālaka Sūri :—

(I) Fruit of sacrifice narrated to King Datta.
(II) Exposition of subtle-vegetable kingdom to Indra.
(III) Study of nimitta at the hands of the Ājīvikas.
(IV) Classification of the Jaina scriptures.
(V) Defeat of king Gardabhilla.
(VI) Saṁvatsarī (annual) transferred from the fifth day of Bhādrapada to the fourth.
(VII) Abandonment of impudent pupils.

The first event is noted in Āvassaya-cuṇṇi. It occurred in a period ranging from Vīra Saṁvat 300 to 376. According to Therāvalī the second took place in c. Vīra Saṁvat 336 to 376. If so, events I and II are associated perhaps with one and the same Kālaka Sūri. The Nijjutti on Uttarajjhayaṇa however strikes a different note, for, according to it the second event occurred in c. Vīra Saṁvat 453. Events III-VII are associated with other Kālaka Sūri. They may be roughly assigned dates as under:—

(a) Saṁvat 443, (b) sometime before 453, (c) end of 453, (d) sometime between 457 and 465, and (e) after 457 but before 465.

For further elucidation etc. see my Gujarātī introduction (pp. 41-48) to Sīmandhara-śobhā-taraṅga.

PART IV

No. 1161, page 3, l. 1pen0. Reference.— Add : Saṅghadāsa Gaṇi Kṣamāśramaṇa has composed Laghubhāsa on Kappa. In the following v. 5549 he seems to allude to this very hymn :—

" अविधिपरिट्ठवणाए काउस्सग्गो गुरुसमीवम्मि । मङ्गलसन्तिनिमित्ते थओ तओ अजित-सन्तीणं ॥ ५५४९ ॥ "

If so, this hymn is at least 1500 years old.

No. 1161, page 4, l. 5. Reference.— Prof. Schubring has edited this hymn and scanned the metres used in it and given their definitions in his article entitled as " Zwei Heiligen-Paare in Preislied " and published in ZDMG in A. D. 1923.

In Prabodha-ṭīkā (pt. III, pp. 464-531) the topic of these metres is elaborately treated in Gujarātī. Herein on p. 535 it is observed that v. 3 furnishes us with Catuṣpaṭa-bandha, v. 4 with three bandhas viz. vāpikā, dīpikā and maṅgala-kalaśa, and v. 16, 17, 21 and 34 with the following bandhas respectively :—

Guccha, vṛkṣa, ṣaḍdala-kamala and aṣṭa-dala-kamala.

Further, on pp. 543-549 the corresponding diagrams of these 8 bandhas are given. Has any one done so previously ?

No. 1161, page 4, l. 5. Reference.— Add: For hymns composed in imitation of this Nandiṣeṇa's hymn see my article " अजियसंति-थय (अजितशान्तिस्तव) अने एनां अनुकरणो " published in " Ātmānanda Prakāśa " (Vol. 49, Nos. 4-5).

No. 1172, page 10, l. 18. Description.— Add after Bodhidīpikā : (some name it as Bodhadīpika and that may be the correct name)

No. 1172, page 13, l. 20. Author.— Further, we come across some hymns in Jaina-stotra-samuccaya, too.

No. 1212, page 54. Reference.—Add : Meghavijaya Gaṇi in his Meghamahodaya (also named as Varṣaprabodha) has quoted verses 1 and 3 while dealing with " मेघाकर्षणदृद्धयन्त्र ".

---

1 Penultimate.

No. 1215, page 60. Reference.—Add : A list of several published kulakas along with some unpublished ones with a few details about them is published in " Jaina Dharma Prakāśa " (Vol. 64, Nos. 8, 11 and 12).

No. 1327, page 156, l. 21. Reference.—Add : Therein we come across 33 verses.

No. 1327, page 156, l. 23. Reference.—Add : Verses 26 and 31 are seen as benedictory stanzas in the beginning of Pariśiṣṭaparvan. Further, the 33rd verse tallies with v. 8 of Maṅgalastotra published in Jainastotrasamuccaya (pp. 1-3). Verse 28 completly agrees with the introductory verse of Haribhadra Sūri's commentary on Dasaveyāliya so far as the first three feet are concerned. (vide p. 115 of Part III of Vol. XVII).

No. 1332, page 162. Reference.— Add : this work tallies with one noted on p. 321 of part I of Vol. XVII.

No. 1337, page 165. Description.— Add : This work is composed during the reign of Anantapal in Vikrama Saṁvat 1463 (vide Jinaratnakośa, Vol. I, p. 22). But in the printed edition there is a verse which gives the date of the composition of Ācāradinakara as Vikrama Saṁvat 1468. It runs as under :—

" श्रीमद्विक्रमभूपालादष्टषण्मनु(१४६८)सङ्ख्यके ।
वर्षेकार्तिकराकायां ग्रन्थोऽयं पूर्तिमाययौ ॥ २८ ॥ "

It seems that this verse is either missing in the Ms. or through oversight it was left out while copying this portion.

No. 1337, page 166. Reference.— Add : In the printed edition (pt. II, pp. 185^{b}-194^{a}) we come across 151 verses which serve as nice specimens of yamaka. They pertain to 25 kusumānjalis (handfuls of flowers). In this connection, in " Jaina Satya Prakāśa "

(Vol. XVII, No. 7) there is an article " पचीस-कुसुमांजलि-महाकाव्य. "

No. 1401, page 230, l. 8. Add : Reference.— Published in श्रीनित्यस्मरणस्तोत्रादिसन्दोह (pp. 60-63) published by " मुक्ताबाई ज्ञानमन्दिर, " Dabhoi, in Vikrama Saṁvat 2005.
